GREAT MYSTERY ENSHROUDS REBUT- TAL TESTIMONY

State Given Until Tomorrow to Prepare For Its Final Effort to Convict Cooper.

Defense Concludes Evidence in-Chief.

STATE'S THEORY IS WITHHELD

Nashville, Tenn., March 2.—After a conference of attorneys the defense rested its case at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and court adjourned until 9 o'clock Thursday to allow the prosecution an opportunity to prepare its rebuttal.

Counsel agreed that the map might show that immediately north of the alley of Dr. Fort's infirmary, there's a high plank fence and between the fence and the south wall of the brick building there is a passageway and at the mouth of this passageway there is a gate.

"This agreement is reached by the attorneys to obviate the necessity of getting a witness here," stated Mr. Anderson, of the defense.

Albert E. Hill.

Albert E. Hill was next sworn. Witness is publisher of the Labor Advocate. He was examined by Mr. Anderson. Witness said he was on the committee having in charge the Labor Day, 1907, exercises at Glendale park; that Senator Carmack made an address on that occasion.

On cross-examination witness stated that there was an unusually large crowd present and that he had introduced Senator Carmack; that the speaking was over about 3:30, and that Carmack was on the veranda with Major Stahlman, Dr. Anderson and others till about 6 o'clock.

Defense's attorneys were here indulged by the court in a consultation.

At 4 o'clock the attorneys for the defense returned to the court room, and Mr. Anderson announced that the defense rested its case here.

General McCann asked the court for a brief consultation.

Before the attorneys retired, however, General Washington stated that as the state had intimated its purpose to cross-examine several of defense's witnesses they should be cross-examined before rebuttal proof was offered.

A great mystery surrounds the rebuttal testimony of the state. General McCann significantly hinted at witnesses who must come from afar, and it was for this reason he asked for the delay until Thursday. The seven gentlemen who are interested in the prosecution look well satisfied. They content themselves with the brief expression, "You have not heard our case yet."

Will Recall Miss Lee.

One thing is sure, Miss Lee, the confidential secretary and stenographer of Judge Bradford, will be recalled, and she will be asked about many things brought out in cross-examination of Robin Cooper, Daniel Cooper, Judge Bradford, General Brown and others who visited the office that day of November 9. It is the impression that she will be used to further show that Judge Bradford's head by his close friend, Louis Thompson, who stooped over a few minutes after he was shot to see if life was extinct. This pistol was identified as the Carmack pistol. It was picked up by Lieut. J. W. Pile, of the United States army, who breeched it in the presence of Policeman Vaughn, showing that it had been fired twice recently, as traces of escaping gases and powder smoke were still visible in the barrel. He also testified that one cartridge discharged was to the right of the barrel and one in the barrel, showing they had been fired in succession. Finally this pistol was identified by the third witness, Major W. O. Vertrees, who swore that it was his pistol, and it was the pistol he gave Senator Carmack on Sunday night, and that when he gave it to him he showed him how to use it and filled each chamber with loaded cartridges. The defense is satisfied that this establishes the identity of the Carmack weapon, for Thompson, Pile and Vertrees were close friends of the deceased and were intimate associates, at least Vertrees and Thompson were.

Theory of the Defense.

The position of the defense is clear. It was forcefully stated by Robin Cooper, the first witness, and the defense strengthened this theory, alluding to it wherever possible and removing obstacles wherever presented. It has never once deviated from the theory of self-defense. The defense has sought to prove that Colonel Cooper, after pledging himself to his friends to send no note to Senator Carmack, on a mission of peace went to Senator Carmack, when he met him that afternoon, to see if by talking with him some adjustment of their difficulties could not be arranged. Fearing his father might be attacked, Robin Cooper followed him. Seeing the two Coopers, Senator Carmack became alarmed and fearing an attack, opened fire. After two shots had been fired, Robin Cooper returned the fire with an automatic pistol, sending three steel-jacketed bullets into the body of the deceased, any one of which would have produced instant death.

To establish its theory, the defense during its reply to the state, has shown that there were three pistols turned over to the police. One pistol was given Robin Cooper by Robin Jones, his uncle. This is the auto-

Electrical Illumination at Night, Gay Bunting and Flags by Day Greet Visitors at the Capital City

Over 150,000 Visitors Already on Scene and Others Are Coming in by the Train Load.

Washington, March 3.—With the inauguration nearer at hand the population of this city is 75,000 to 100,000 greater than usual, and by tonight this surplus will be doubled.

Of the 31,000 members of civic and military organizations who will participate in the inaugural parade, about one-third already have arrived. By tonight fully nine-tenths of them will be here. The West Point cadets reached the city this afternoon and the Annapolis "midshipmen" will arrive Thursday morning.

Pennsylvania avenue is brilliantly illuminated. Long golden ropes of gorgeously glittering electric lights, waving American flags done in red, white and blue lights, shields bearing in the midst of the light the beaming face of the president-elect and other similar devices, made the fronts of many buildings pictures of fairyland beauty. In one tall building the upper floors were a mass of red light, the middle floors white and the lower floors blue.

Military uniforms were thickly scattered among the thousands who marched in the pre-inaugural parade up and down Pennsylvania avenue, crowding the broad sidewalks and overflowing into the streets.

The guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, President-elect and Mrs. Taft will begin their occupancy of the white house tonight, going there for dinner and remaining.

After the inauguration there will be a reunion of the various members of the Taft family at the white house. Yesterday Taft was called upon by Senator-elect Root and the two had a lengthy conference. Its details, Taft said, was not properly a matter for public discussion. The Oregon delegation in congress called on him with reference to the federal judiciary.

Fair Weather Predicted.

Washington, March 3.—Most of those scheduled to take part in the inauguration are here and the city is crowded. The decorations have all been placed. The weather bureau today forecasts fair and colder weather for tomorrow. Many bets are being made among visitors on the weather. Black horse troop A, of the Ohio National Guard, of Cleveland, which will be Taft's personal escort, arrived today.

Herrick Refuses Ambassadorship.

Washington, March 3.—Taft today authorized the statement that he had tendered an ambassadorship to Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, but had been refused on account of Herrick's business connections.

Griscom Resigns.

Atome, March 3.—Ambassador Griscom sent his resignation to Washington today in anticipation of sweeping changes in the ambassadorial corps.

JUDGE JOHN K. RICHARDS
DIES IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., March 3.—United States Circuit Court of Appeals Judge John K. Richards died at his home here of his disease.

BRADLEY CLUB.
Washington, D. C., March 3.—The Bradley marching club has been assigned to the third brigade in the second division of the inaugural parade. The Bradley special arrived at 8 o'clock this morning.

with the incoming of the Taft administration.

Signed Naval Bill.

Washington, March 3.—President Roosevelt today signed the naval bill, notwithstanding it restored marines to ships despite an executive order to the contrary. The president held a number of important conferences during the day, one with Hitchcock and another with Republican Chairman Woodruff, of New York. He signed photographs and a number of commissions and received delegations of callers.

Roosevelt's Colors Still Fly.

Washington, March 3.—A few hours more—and then Theodore Roosevelt will walk out of the white house a private citizen.

All of his plans have been completed. A procession of vans left the side and back entrances of the white house all day. The trophies have been taken down, papers and books packed up, superfluous china and plate sent off to storage or Oyster Bay. Roosevelt could leave tomorrow and without a word of regret, according to his own statement, if it were necessary.

As Taft will hardly finish his inaugural address until about half past 1 or 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Roosevelt will not be able to leave for New York until 3 o'clock. He will travel in Democratic style, occupying an ordinary seat in a Pullman car on the train.

Until then, Theodore Roosevelt is still president, as anyone may observe who visits the executive offices.

The outer room is constantly thronged with visitors, official and otherwise, eager to shake the retiring president by the hand. Streams of people are constantly going in.

Inside Roosevelt is talking to senators and representatives, signing bills, signing letters, signing his name to photographs which litter the top of his desk.

There is a broad smile on his face and agility in his manner. He is going out with the colors flying and getting the same amount of fun that he has derived from his mighty job all through his two administrations.

The last regular cabinet meeting was held at the usual hour, every member being present. Not much business was transacted, there being an interchange of reminiscences and good will. The president expressed in feeling terms his regret at parting with his associates in the official family, referring to the great help each man had given him and wishing him well.

O'Brien Case Reversed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3. (Special)—The appellate court this morning reversed the decision of the McCracken county circuit court in the case of the Mutual Life Insurance company against Mrs. Belle O'Brien.

Mrs. O'Brien sued the insurance company to recover a policy on the life of her husband, Pat O'Brien, on which the premiums had not been paid for some time before death. In the lower court Mrs. O'Brien was given a decision for $5,000, the value of the policy.

Col. Cooper's Pistol.

The defense introduced Colonel Thomas Hutchison, one of the three fire and police commissioners of the city of Nashville, to show that on Sunday night about the same time Senator Carmack was arming himself, he gave to Colonel Duncan B. Cooper a new nickel-plated revolver, which had never been fired, and which had never been stained or smoked with powder. On the stand Citizen.

THE BURIAL AT OAK GROVE

Mr. Charles Friedrick, 61 years old, died this morning at his home, 232 North Sixth street, shortly after 2 o'clock, after an illness since last Friday of paralysis and pneumonia. Mr. Friedrick all his life had been a Hale and hearty man till Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock when he suffered a stroke of paralysis. The next day after the stroke of paralysis, pneumonia set in making his illness fatal.

Mr. Friedrick was a native of Germany. He was born at Hanover, Germany, in 1847 and lived there till he was 18 years old. He then went on the ocean as a sailor and came to this country when he was 19 years old and resided in New York for three years and since that time he had been a resident of this city. Mr. Friedrick had been a resident of Paducah for the last 40 years and had been a member of Paducah's most honorable citizens. The first ten years Mr. Friedrick lived in the city he followed the tailoring business and for the last 30 years he had been in the sewing machine business. For many years Mr. Friedrick was the only sewing machine agent in this city and he established a large business and a prosperous one. Many of the older citizens of this city will remember Mr. Friedrick as being a very good business man; all his life in this city he has been an upright, generous citizen.

Mr. Friedrick had been a devoted member of the First Presbyterian church for many years. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge, the Odd Fellows and the Golden Circle. The Masonic lodge and the Odd Fellows will have charge of the funeral and both organizations will carry out their funeral ceremonies.

Mr. Friedrick was married 21 years ago to Miss May Pickering of Princeton. He is survived by his wife and two children, Miss Malzie Friedrick, and William Friedrick. CHINA'S TEA INDUSTRY.

Reliable Information Given As To Picking, Sorting and Packing Leaf.

Replying to a letter from Peansylvania inquiring about curing Chinese tea, Consul General Charles Denby of Shanghai replies:

Tea is not placed on plates for drying and withering, but is protected bamboo mats, from which it is impossible for the wind to blow it. Green tea and black tea are prepared quite differently after picking, is partially dried in the sun or by artificial heat, and subsequently, at the pleasure of the tea man, is dried, rolled and colored in iron pans over a slow charcoal fire. Then the leaf is sifted according to its size and shape, making such grades as Gunpowder, Young Hyson and Tyso, as known in the foreign markets. After this process is finished it is put into packages or chests weighing between sixty and seventy pounds, ready for export.

The color of black tea is due in no way to coloring matter, as is commonly supposed, but is caused by the withering or fermentation. Immediately after picking it is slightly withered or fermented by being placed in the sun, and the expertise of the tea man is shown in his being able to know just when to stop the withering or fermentation. After this the tea is rolled in bamboo trays and dried in pans until thoroughly dry and ready for packing. These teas are packed in chests and half-chests for export, and in case it comes from the tea man in smaller packages it is repacked to suit the wishes of the purchaser. Tea chests are practically all made in the same manner—of wood, lead-lined, and when ready for export are wrapped with coarse Canton mats.

Both tea dust and common grades of black tea are made in the shape of bricks, weighing usually between one and a half and two pounds. All teas in this shape are exported to Siberia and Mongolia, and in a less degree to Russia. The United States does not use tea in this form.—United States Consular Reports.

JEFFRIES SAYS HE CAN WHIP JOHNSON

Could Knock Present Champions Head Off.

Al Kaufman Sends One of His Periodical Challenges to Box Jim.

WHAT THE SPORTS ARE DOING.

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—"I won't go back to the ring unless I have plenty of time to get into perfect condition. But if I ever do I will knock Johnson's head off."

This was the statement made by James J. Jeffries, retired heavyweight champion of the world, who reached the city yesterday and who is now quartered at the Auditorium Annex. He will remain until nearly noon today and will then depart for New York, where he will fill a theatrical engagement. He will return three weeks hence.

Jeffries was accompanied by his wife and Sam Berger, the former amateur heavy-weight champion of the world. Berger won his title at the Olympic games in St. Louis in 1904 during the Louisiana purchase exposition.

Jeffries seemed in good shape, considering the amount of talk that has been spread about his excess of fat, and has a deep, ruddy brown in his cheeks which seems to indicate that he is in fat trim. He was introduced from the stage of the American Music Hall yesterday and was greeted with wild applause.

"We are simply taking our time," said Sam Berger. "Jeff has to get back into trim, and I don't see any reason why Jeffries should pay any attention to Johnson's claims that he is the champion. Jim never was beaten. He retired from the ring undefeated. I don't see where that gives Johnson any right to cut in and claim that he has the title." Who gave it to Burns, anyway? He never beat anybody for it that had a right to hang a handle to his name."

Jeffries himself seems to take the whole pugilistic position rather philosophically.

"My hands are in first-class shape," he said, "and Sam Berger and myself are training a couple hours every day. I don't claim to be in the best of shape just at present, but I can round into trim once more. I intend to make quite a stay here on the return trip from the east."

Al Kaufman sent one of his regular challenges to box Jeffries by way of Billy DeLaney. The message was sent from Los Angeles, and Al said that he wants to put up $10,000 on the side. Jeffries simply smiled and said that he would take his own time about answering.

Adherents of Charles I.

It is 260 years since Charles I. was beheaded and a lot of faithful Jacobins celebrated the event in Trafalgar Square while announcing their allegiance to "Queen Mary," whom they look upon as their lawful sovereign. Whether Charles' head was a good one or not is a matter of opinion, but he was very much attached to it, as it was the only one he had.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

"During this proceeding the little girl's brother opened the door and was about to enter. But in her prone position across her mother's knee the little girl twisted around her head and said, severely:

"'Eddie, go out! Can't you see we're busy?'

The late Joseph Jefferson played only twelve weeks each theatrical year, a season of eight weeks in the autumn and four in the spring. Between seasons his worthy son, Joseph and William W. Jefferson, toured the country presenting the father's favorite and foremost success, "The Rivals," a comedy classic, written by Richard Brinsley Sheridan in 1775. The success achieved by the Jefferson boys was of that lasting quality for which the name of Jefferson has long been famous, and for the past several years have devoted their entire dramatic energies to a presentation of this brilliant comedy. The present season finds them continuing in "The Rivals." This attraction, in all its artistic thoroughness, comes to The Kentucky on Thursday, March 4.

all the names of children of school age. It is thought that the Lexington school board will adopt the plan of Louisville.

At the school board meeting last night the plan of Louisville was discussed by the trustees. Instead of one man, two men are sent over the same district.

At the end of each day the two men compare names and from both lists it is possible to secure the name of almost every child in the district.

The method of employing two men is more expensive, but more thorough, as the name of each child means $2.50 to the schools.

Honor Pupils.

Honor pupils for the month of February were announced this morning by Prof. W. H. Sugg, principal of the high school. This month the roll has 55 students, whose record in all studies and deportment was excellent, although there was a slight decrease in the number of honor pupils. The list is: Jessie Acker, Stella Anderson, May Bonds, Edie Bowell, Ruby Bond, Margaret Carnagey, Gladys Dohorn, Julia Dohiney, Ima Darnall, Pauline Baker, Margaret Endris, Mildred Gardner, Virginia Gilbert, E'za Hinkle, Dixie Hale, Pauline Hank, Jacy Harper, Augusta Harper, On Johnson, Dola Kelly, Mary Kennedy, Thelma Korb, Myrtle Mayer, Edna Mooney, Mildred Piper, Marian Piner, Asley Reeve, Katherine Rock, Mary Ellen Rogers, Ellen Rutter, Nina Lee Savage, Rebecca Smith, Edie Speck, Kite Steinhauer, Ayleen Stephens, Grace Stewart, Loraine Sutherland, Rosalie Warren, Virginie Warren, Lorraine Wilkerson, Mary Rutter, Elizabeth Woerner, Edwin Haner, Fred Laek, Herbert Sheldon, Fred Wahl, Alice Byrne, Hattie Bowell, Laura Lockwood, Ruth Mitchell, May Moody, Leila Wyman, Trey Browning and Pittman Harth.

A STARTLING STATEMENT.

New York Medical Authorities Claim Dyspepsia Causes Consumption.

The post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain, the weakened, irritable stomach is unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, constipation ensues, and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result the body becomes a fertile field for the germs of disease to lodge and flourish.

Therefore the person who permits dyspepsia to progress unhindered is guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind.

Dyspepsia is curable if properly treated. W. B. McPherson sells a remedy which he positively guarantees will cure indigestion or dyspepsia or he will pay for all the medicine used during the trial. This remedy is an absolutely new medical discovery and has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and the offer of W. B. McPherson is proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable and infallible remedy. Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try this remedy. A twenty-five cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. Remember Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are only sold in Paducah by W. B. McPherson.

SCHOOL FOR DEAF SHORT OF FUNDS

Payment Refused by State on Warrant For $20,000.

Governor May Recommend "Daylight Saving" Bill in His Next Message.

DEMOCRAT APPOINTED JUDGE.

COST TO COUNTY WAS $300.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—Unless the state pays a warrant for $20,631 due for running expenses during the last three months, the Kentucky School for the Deaf at Danville will have to close its doors and send back to their homes some hundreds of girls and boys. At present the school is not broke, not having a cent on which to run and is unable to raise money, either by borrowing or on the warrants of the state. The condition of affairs is very serious and those interested in the school are much worried.

Payment of the warrant was refused here today on the ground that the state did not have any money to meet the claim, although some general warrants are being paid. It was announced some time ago that general warrants would not be paid, but the school's and charitable institutions would be cared for. This was meant to include the Insane asylum and the feeble-minded Institute, but one institution, which is not a charitable one, although placed on that general footing, seems to have been left out of the reckoning. The school at Danville is supported by the state and draws its allowance only once every three months. Judge C. R. McLeod, one of the trustees of the school, was here today trying to get money and said the situation is a serious one.

Daylight Saving Bill.

In order to save daylight and have the business of the day transacted in the light of the sun instead of by artificial light, a movement which took shape in England has spread to this country and Gov. Wilson is seriously considering recommending such a measure for Kentucky. It is possible that a bill carrying into effect the idea of daylight saving may be introduced in the next legislature. The idea is to set the clocks forward one hour, beginning April 1 and set them back again on September 1. Gov. Wilson today received a letter from London, England, explaining the plan and suggesting that it be adopted in Kentucky.

Prof. Crabbie Back.

A saving of $17,000 to the state resulted from the recent agitation to have the Western Normal school removed from Bowling Green, as the owners of the property in Bowling Green which was desired by the board of regents, came down that much in the price they had asked for the land. Prof. J. G. Crabbie, superintendent of public instruction, returned today from Chenglo and Bowing Green. He was in Chicago to attend a meeting of the department of superintendents of the Educational Association.

Prof. Crabbie said that the board of regents had paid $50,000 for Potter college and had bought 100 acres of land in addition, for which they had paid $29,000, making a total expenditure of $79,000. The price originally asked for this property was greatly in excess of what was actually paid for it. So many other cities wanted the school and made so strong efforts to get it from Bowling Green that the owners of the property sliced off a big sum. A new building to cost $75,000 is to be built for the Western Normal.

Third-Class Passengers.

In the street car of a large city, where public sentiment unquestionably forbids any division of passengers into "classes" at different rates of fare, the presence of the passenger who is so uncivilized in his ideas of a passenger's own rights and duties toward other passengers as to be considered properly a third-class passenger, is too notorious a fact to be questioned. From time to time complaints are made by passengers of encroachment or flagrant rudeness shown to passengers by street car conductors or motormen, and too many of us have learned by experience that such things happen; but we must admit that a little something can be said for the conductor who has to deal with such a very mixed lot of persons. His duties are manifold, and his running schedule fixed; he has much to contend with, and no schooling except at the expense of the passengers, in the difficult art of dealing quickly with many hundreds of separate persons in a day.—New York Evening Sun.

BONDING COMPANY

MUST PAY EXPENSES

If Any Are Incurred in Collecting Shortage.

Fiscal Court Refuses to Allow Pay to Committee While on Eastern Junkt.

COST TO COUNTY WAS $300.

Dull monotony was broken in the session of the fiscal court yesterday afternoon when the check of the Title Guaranty and Surety company, in payment for the alleged shortage of Elizam Smedley, former county court clerk, was refused. The meeting became lively and the debate was animated. The session ended by the last straw of comprise being thrown away, and County Attorney Allen Barkley was ordered by the court to file any suit necessary or prosecute any suit already filed that sought to recover money due the county by Elizam Smedley.

The breach was a surprise to the members and spectators, as the compromise was cut and dried and it was expected easy sailing. Attorney John G. Miller, Sr., representing the company, stated that he was ready to pay to the county a check for $1,580.52, but he wanted a resolution adopted by the court. The resolution in substance read that the settlement would be final and that the bonding company would not be held liable for any other shortage that might be found in the office, and also that the company would be protected from any suits that W. M. Hinsbonds, revenue agent, might file and secure judgment. The fireworks was started by the motion of Magistrate C. W. Emery to refuse to accept the check, and the discussion became lively and spirited rejoinders were made by several speakers. County Judge R. T. Lightfoot strenuously opposed the acceptance of the check under the conditions, asserting that if Mr. Hinsbonds secured judgment for the shortage that the county, and not the bonding company, would be responsible for his fee, which would be about $225. It was the opinion of the members of the court that Mr. Hinsbonds, as state revenue agent, had no authority to file the suit to recover funds due the county without the consent of the fiscal court, but the court did not want to leave the county liable for the fee should the higher courts decide that his fee should be allowed.

A resolution was offered that the county would make the dual settlement with the bonding company for $1,580.52 if the company would agree to pay any fee that Mr. Hinsbonds might secure, but this was not satisfactory to the court, and was rejected. Both the bonding company and the county wanted to escape a long-winded litigation, but the effort at compromise was a failure. Magistrate Emery said the court had dealt fairly with the company and his motion carried unanimously to refuse the check.

Another lively tilt between the members was the presentation of the bill of Magistrate Emery, Broadfoot and Bleich for committee work, which was understood to be for work done while away on the trip east to inspect road machinery. Magistrate Emery said he put in the bill because the money allowed for the trip was not sufficient, but Magistrate Bleich and Broadfoot contended that their work was done in the county. However, the payment for the committee work was withdrawn. For committee work $3 is allowed for each day. Judge R. T. Lightfoot announced from the bench that there was too much committee work being carried on and that he would rearrange the committees.

It was stated in open court that $300 was allowed by the county for the committee, consisting of Magistrates C. W. Emery, George Broadfoot, and Bert Johnson, county road supervisor, to make the trip east to inspect road machinery, but that the members split expenses and took Magistrate J. J. Bleich along. It was the expression of the court that any expense over $300, which was allowed by the court, would have to be paid by the members themselves.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—I have derived such great benefit from the use of your remedy, Swamp-Root, that I believe it to be most important for the public to know its worth. For the past ten years I have been the most miserable of men. Did not know what the trouble was but had to urinate very frequently both day and night; was all puffed up generally. Could not sleep more than a couple of hours at a time, was greatly distressed after eating a meal and was about worn out. I had tried nearly everything I could see advertised and bear of, without helping me to any great extent, until finally in October last at Elizam, W. S., I purchased a one dollar bottle of Swamp-Root and commenced taking it according to directions and I followed that with another bottle and experienced such great relief and benefit from same that I purchased five dollars worth at Huntsville, Ala., and continued its use and am now taking it, but in smaller doses and twice a day in place of four times a day and believe up I will be entirely well. I am feeling better now than for ten years past. Can eat and sleep first class, in fact I am feeling so good that I cannot rest, telling you about it. You are at liberty to publish this testimonial should you wish.

Very Respectfully,

THOS. STALLARD, U. S. A., Retired

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—I write today to the public that your Swamp-Root cured me of kidney trouble. I was almost past going; having spasmodic spells with my kidneys that were breaking down my constitution. The best medical aid was employed and they pronounced my trouble as alkali in my kidneys, but were unable to do me any permanent good.

I took four bottles of Swamp-Root and became a well man. This was six years ago and I have had no trace of the trouble. Yours for suffering men,

A Mail Carrier's Experience, Mountville, Tenn.

I have been a rural letter carrier for over five years. Some two years ago I was taken with severe pains in my back. I used medicine from my family physician for several months without any benefit. A friend, Mr. J. D. Nelson, advised me to try your Swamp-Root, but I had no faith in it. I continued to grow worse and in last decided to try this remedy and bought of Long Bros a fifty-cent bottle which gave me great relief. I then bought two one-dollar bottles, which I can truthfully say completely cured me.

I had it not been for Swamp-Root, I would have been compelled to quit the rural free delivery service.

I advise all mail carriers who get pains in their back that Swamp-Root will cure them.

I was so bad that very often my wife would have to help me to arise.

Daily Thought.

The most eloquent prayers for the needy are the ones we carry to them in baskets.

Mr. Taft announced his belief in "equal rights for women" before the election. He is putting his theories in practice at his inauguration.

The New York engineer who sold a first edition copy of Isaac Walton for $3,900, is entitled to the trophy for the first fish story of the season.

Verily the south is drying up. Arkansas is the latest state to pass a state-wide measure. There were evidently a host of druggists in the legislature, as the measure gives them a monopoly of the traffic.

Wisconsin's legislators learned a lesson from the Tennessee brethren. The Anti-Stephenson men fled the state the other day following the example of the southerners, in an effort to prevent his election.

Through the efforts of country newspapers in New York 3,000 of the unemployed in New York City found places on farms last year. There is no lack of room for willing workers in the rural regions of Kentucky and other states.

Taft is starting out to break some precedents himself. Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman are to ride in the carriages with their husbands in the inaugural parade tomorrow. This is the first time ladies have been so honored before. But why not?

Preparations for the induction of William Howard Taft into the presidency are complete and the various committees in Washington say that the ceremonies of the day will be more brilliant and picturesque than any previous inaugural event.

A $50,000 monument in memory of President James A. Garfield is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Langley, of Kentucky. The measure provides that the monument shall be erected on or near the Middle Creek battlefield in Floyd county, Kentucky.

After deliberating more than sixty hours the jury in the case of Councillor Klein, Wasson and Brand, of Pittsburgh, returned a verdict finding them guilty of graft. W. W. Ramsey, the former banker, was found not guilty on instructions from the court.

Those truant Tennessee legislators are causing all kinds of worry. Their absence breaks a quorum, and no appropriation bills to replenish a depleted treasury can be passed. All appropriation bills expire on the 19th of this month, hence all salaries and every item of expense will be held up.

At last a forestry bill has passed congress, the Appalachian and White mountain bill passing the lower house Monday with a scant ten votes to spare. This measure, in one form or another, has been before congress for six or seven years. It always passed the senate but has been held up every

CITY BASEBALL
LEAGUE PROMISEDWill be Organized at End of Basketball SeasonSilver Cup Will Be Presented to the Team Winning City Basketball Championship.

SEASON WILL END APRIL 1.

When the end of the basketball season of the city basketball league is reached it is planned to have the league developed into a city baseball league for a promotion of sports in the city during the summer. Since it is felt certain that there will not be any inter-city baseball league it is proposed to feed the hungry fans with good games between the city teams, and have a standing, awarding the victor a pennant which would stimulate interest.

The basketball league will end April 1, and in the meanwhile some lively games are anticipated. The managers of the league have decided to give the winning team a silver cup. The winning team will be engraved on it, and each year the silver trophy will be presented for. With one month remaining for games no team has a clinch on the top rung of the ladder and some of the best games are yet to come. It is when the teams are neck and neck and on the home stretch that the enthusiasm is at the highest and the attendance at the city basketball games is expected to pick up.

Already preparations have been begun for baseball. The Elks have begun work on a team, while the Chess, Checker and Whist club is just as certain to be represented on the diamond. Also the Knights of Columbus will follow the plan of last year, and probably several other teams will be in the field when the empire marches to the box and calls "play ball."

It is planned by the promoters of the city league to enlarge the basketball teams into nine, as most of the basketball players are all around athletes and are at home on the diamond. The plan seems a good one, and doubtless will go through.

he again identified this pistol. It was in the same condition, being new as it was when it came from the shop, showing that it had not been fired. It was further identified by Sergeant Meadows, of the police department, as the same pistol he took from Colonel Cooper that night.

On this proof, the defense contends that Colonel Cooper, with his identified gun, never fired a shot, that Senator Carmack, with the Vertrees gun, fired twice and that Robin Cooper, with the Robin Jones gun, fired three times.

Having introduced other witnesses to show that five shots were fired, the defense then openly charged that the first two shots were fired by Senator Carmack, and that the three quick shots were fired by Robin Cooper.

State Without Theory.

What evidence it has, how successful it will be, what theory it will proceed upon, what it will attempt to prove, or disprove remains to be seen. The story will soon be told in its entirety. The defendants' story, so long withheld from the public, has been vividly interesting and has been practically told in full.

The rebuttal will be, whether the defense will be concluded its case finally with a brief line of sur-rejoinder testimony, after which the argument will be opened.

A Gentleman From Mississippi

CHAPTER VIII.
HOW SENATOR LANGDON GETS A SECRETARY.

LANGDON leaned over and seized the arm of his interviewer.

"See here, young man, why aren't you in politics?" he said.

"Too busy, senator," replied Haines.

"Besides, I like the newspaper game."

"Game?" queried Langdon.

"Oh, I use the word in a general sense, senator," replied Haines. "Pretty much everything is a 'game'—politics, politics, newspaper work, business of every sort. Men and women make 'moves' to meet the moves of other men and women. Why, even in religion, the way some people play a—"

The speaker was interrupted by the appearance of Hope Georgia, who was searching for her father.

"Stay here and listen to what a hard task your old father has got," said the Mississippian to his daughter, whom he presented to Haines with a plumed hat and a sword.

WOMAN A MONSTER, TORTURES BABIES

Servants Say the Sargents
Were Inhuman to Children.

Authorities Tracing Parentage of Charges in Hands of Mysterious Couple.

PARIS SCENTS A SCANDAL

Paris, March 3.—The case of the Englishman, Sargent, and his wife, said to be an American, who were arrested at Asnieres, charged with gross ill-treatment of four small children, whom they had adopted may develop into a great scandal.

The chief energy of the authorities is directed to tracing the parentage of the children abandoned to the custody of the Sargents.

Woman Claims an Allowance.
The authorities say that the woman insists that she is the daughter of a Frenchman named Savain and an American woman, who now live in the United States, and that they forward her each year $6,250 as an allowance.

Before an examining magistrate the woman declared that she had not maltreated the children, but had only chastised them when necessary. She said she had adopted the children because she loved them. There were violent scenes in the courtroom between the accused couple and their servants, the latter charging the woman with being a prevaricating monster.

One Child Born Last November.
The police say they have established the fact that the youngest child adopted by the Sargents was born in November at the Holy Trinity Lodge, an Anglo-American institution, the membership of which is composed of English and American girls.

Some people make a specialty of giving advice they know will not be heeded.

DANDRUFF GERMS MUST GO.
In America the dandruff germs must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun. Already thousands of intelligent Americans have permanently rid themselves of this filthiness.

Today it is no more necessary for a man to have dandruff in his hair than to have tar on his teeth.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indomitable dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parisian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or your money back.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy.

HAS SMALLPOX IN JAIL AT OWENSBORO.

Owensboro, Ky., March 3.—T. S. Anderson, the aged president of the defunct Daviess County Bank and Trust company, who was convicted in January of swearing to a false statement of the condition of his bank, is ill of smallpox in the county jail. It was discovered that Mr. Anderson was affected with the dreaded disease. Five other prisoners are also ill of the same disease.

Mr. Anderson's family have been in the habit of visiting him, but have not seen him since the quarantine was placed on the jail. The disease is in a mild form. Mr. Anderson is in jail pending an appeal to the court of appeals of his sentence of three years in the penitentiary. His case has been set for oral argument at Frankfort on March 10.

It's an argument until the other fellow gets the better of it. Then it's a dispute.

OGDEN ARMOUR VS. JAMES PATTEN

Armour Will Lead Bears in Vigorous Assault.

Meat Packer Will Be Asked to Do
What His Father Did When He Broke Up the Leiter Corner.

WHEAT FIGHT IS BREWING

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—Upon the shoulders of J. Ogden Armour will fall the task of grappling with James A. Patten, acknowledged "wheat king" of the world, in an attempt to overthrow the "czar of the pit," and put wheat around the dollar mark.

It was the late P. D. Armour who was called upon at the last minute to overthrow the young "Joe" Leiter when the impetuous millionaire tried to corner wheat, and now his son has fallen heir to a task which is even greater. Leiter was thrown over at a cost of $7,000,000 to himself and friends and was forced to go through bankruptcy by the genius of the elder Armour, whose millions were employed in chartering ice-crushing boats and several fleets of the Great Lakes, which kept navigation open through the Soo straits and dumped wheat into Chicago so fast that Leiter and his following were unable to pay cash for it. This spelled their ruin.

The Armour Grain company is said to be short on wheat and on the same side of the market with the other large elevator interests of the country, such as the South Chicago Elevator company and the heads of other companies, in the persons of Nye Jenks, Rosenbaum and other grain men. J. Ogden Armour will lead these forces against Patten, but as yet the bears are hiding their teeth.

Market Was Automatic.

There are still 90 days in which to deliver May wheat that James A. Patten has bought, and the bears are not inclined to force the fighting at the present stage.

Wheat acted seemingly according to its own sweet will. It opened at $1.16 a bushel, 2 cents lower than it closed Saturday at noon. During the trading fluctuations were varied and brokers stormed the pit, buying and selling wheat in a perfect frenzy. No one seemed to be able to tell just what wheat or Patten would do and prices made a zig-zag line across the chart. Patten himself did not enter the pit, but three of his trusted men were there, and they automatically bought or sold, according to the grain king's orders. At the close of the market Patten had given enough support to send wheat to $1.17.

This price was taken as showing nothing of the real conditions of the market. It was admitted that Patten could step into the pit at any time and put wheat at $1.20 a bushel or even more, but the bears claimed that this advantage would mean nothing and that it would be a condition that no man, unless he had the wealth of a dozen Rockefellers at his command, could support for any length of time.

Both Sides Confident.

Both the bulls and the bears appear confident and both quote valuably of figures which seem to prove that the position they have taken is the correct one and that their knowledge of the wheat conditions of the world has been carefully gleaned and their information accurate in every detail.

Patten, as the leader of the bull market, says that there is not enough wheat to supply the world's demand, while the leaders in the bear move-

FEELIE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol.

Mrs. Michael Bloom, of Lewiston, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unequalled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.
